CONVERSATION STARTERS

These conversation starters are the perfect way to get your kids—even those teenagers—to start talking. You can use them around the dinner table, in the car, before bedtime, at school, or even for family reunions.

Instructions: Print and cut out questions. There's one for each day.

If you were a condiment what would you be?

What is the favorite thing you do with the family?

What is the nicest thing anyone has ever done for you?

Who is your best friend?

If you could choose your own nickname, what would you choose?

How would your life be different if you had no fear?

How do you like people to show you that they think you are special?

I feel happy and content when ____.

In order of importance how would you rank love, spirituality, freedom, and happiness?

Something I believe about love is ____.

What would be your actor name?

Would you rather live in the mountains or the beach?

What are you afraid of?

What is something you wish your siblings would do with you?

What is your favorite flavor of ice cream?
